Creating Child Masterminds

Deborah McNelis, M.Ed, an early brain development specialist, will discuss the importance of early relationships with the children in our lives. In her seminar Attention to Relationships , Deborah emphasizes how critical early relationships are to self-regulation, resiliency, delayed gratification, and behaviors throughout life. Did you know early relationships also affect learning? You will be inspired by how much more you understand how the brain impacts behavior and learning in school and in everyday family life.

December 8th, 2015, 9 to 12 p.m.

Oak Creek Public Library- Multi-Purpose Room
8040 S. 6th St. Oak Creek, WI 53154

Cost: $20 for Childcare Professionals who want 3 CEC credits

FREE to other professionals & parents

RSVP: http://creatingchildmasterminds.eventbrite.com

Cost includes a light snack

Oak Creek Wisconsin Health

City of South Milwaukee Public Health Health Department

City of St. Francis WI Since 1951 Where Your Heart Remains

Healthiest Cudahy Collaboration Community Caring for Community

Franklin Health Department

Project Concern

ECIC